EACH DAY

. . . early and late,
more than thirteen hundred endlessly busy Leopards gather in clusters and crowds . . .
join in routine daily affairs of classes and clubs . . .
check the latest reports of projects and parties,
of plans and paraphernalia . . .
share work and play,
joy and tears,
victory and defeat—

FOREWORD

Leopards,

Together we have lived another year in the proud history of Adamson High School. Together we have studied, worked, played, and prayed. Now it is time for us to store up these cherished memories. For the seniors, it is time to take their places in a much larger and a much more demanding world. For the underclassmen, it is time to rededicate themselves to the task of preparing for the world which the graduates now face. No matter what our classification, we all face the individual responsibility of growing up, for this is what our world requires of us—we must not fail. No matter what the future may hold, the past is behind us. Yesterday is history and is now recorded so that we might always remember it—this, then, is the purpose of the Oak.

Adamson, and every little part of it, has become a very important part of each and every one of us. What Adamson has done for us, and what we have done for Adamson, will have a very definite bearing upon all of our lives as we go our separate ways.

During the years of our attendance, we have all made memories which will never be forgotten; however, where there is success, there is also failure which must be overcome. All in all, our school days have laid a solid foundation upon which we can build our future.

Deep down inside, we know that our individual presence in this school has helped to make it what it is. We also know that this school has helped to make us what we are and what we will be. No matter where we go or what we do, we shall always hold our heads high and be proud that we had the privilege of attending W. H. Adamson High School. We shall always remember what we did here and what we learned here. In a backward glance we see the end of a school year, but in reality, it is only the beginning of a challenging future.

DEDICATION

We the Staff of 1965 would like to dedicate this year's Oak to someone who has been an inspiration to many. His untiring effort on behalf of the student body of Adamson has achieved for him the admiration of all. Enthusiasm, devotion, and sincerity are but a few words to describe Mr. Conley Jenkins.

A teacher, no matter how efficient, must have support to function. Mr. Jenkins gets support and love from "my girls."

and his three favorites, Derone; Denae; and Delette. He states that he still has the Upper hand in all family matters, even if it is 4 to 1!

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Mr. B. H. Kiger we dedicate this page. Mr. Kiger's long years of service as a teacher were characterized by a high degree of cooperation and loyalty.

Mr. Kiger is shown here helping to make the annual Penny Parade a great success.

Miss Spruiell came to Adamson in September of 1944 from Sunset. She served as dean for 19 years before taking her new position at Justin F. Kimball. During this time, she was always recognized for her fairness and kindness. She was, and is, respected by all. We proudly dedicate this page to Miss Lona B. Spruiell.

This page is dedicated to MISS LONA B. SPRUIELL

During Open House, November 8, Miss Spruiell was presented a plaque in appreciation for her many services to Adamson High School.

MISS ADAMSON

The Miss Adamson Pageant has become an annual event in our school. Contestants are sponsored by the various clubs. From the original group of contestants, eight are screened as finalists. These eight girls are presented in the pageant outfitted in suits and formal wear. They are also required to perform in the talent division.

Due to extremely close judging, nine girls were chosen as finalists this year. They were: Dottie Herrmann, Francis Keith, Martha Pollard, Carolyn Way, Sandy Leslie, Pat Evers, Freddie Ingram, Robin Rasor, and Betty Davis. From these girls, Pat Evers emerged as Miss Adamson. Freddie Ingram was chosen as first runner-up and Robin Rasor was selected as second runner-up.

FREDDIE INGRAM

PAT EVERS

Jean Wilson, last year's Miss Adamson, was present to crown Pat.

Under the able direction of Mr. Joe Teague, this organization has brought much credit to Adamson. Besides presenting programs for the student body, they are often heard in many civic programs. This year the Chorus has 112 members; and each one of these people has given his all for each performance. To this fine group goes congratulations for a fine year.

1965 LEOPARD BAND

This year's band, under the direction of William Beckhart and Bill Epps, was one of the best in the history of Adamson. They combined with the Leopardettes to provide excellent half-time entertainment throughout the football season. The band also represented us well in such events as the Big D half-time show.

Martha Cummings

Don Baker

Dottie Herrmann

Bebe Lopez and Sam Cleveland

Janace Pope and Steve Utley

This group of eight spirited cheerleaders was the nucleus of our tremendous school spirit throughout the school year. They were elected from an original group of thirty-one in April of 1964. During the following summer they attended a cheerleading school at S.M.U. at which they perfected their techniques. These kids worked hard for Adamson, for they, like everyone else wanted the best for our school.

A YEAR WITH

The candidates for cheerleader do "Two Bits" the last time before going before the student body.

ALL THAT MONEY DOWN THE DRAIN . . . Such posters like Janace and Pages were exhibited for a three day period throughout the building the week of elections.

Here Mr. Ligon, Mr. Forgey, and former student Shirley McCann survey the front hall the morning of the elections.

The Art Department makes decorations for all holidays. Members put in much time making designs such as these.

THE 1965 OAK

April is always a busy month at Adamson. Such activities as the Select Chorus operettas, the one act play, National Honor Society initiation and Mr. Adamson's birthday, which is observed as Flower Day, are observed during this month.

Iris Belk, Don Baker, and Jim Templeton had the leads in "The Fortune Teller."

Joe Teague displays his talent in Select's "Miss Cherry Blossom."

Adamson's entry in the one act play contest was "The Twelve Pound Look." Charles Ingram was named best actor in the South Zone for his performance.

Flower Day was observed on April 26, Mr. Adamson's birthday. At the end of the day the flowers are placed on the grave of Mr. Adamson at Laurel Land.

Each year the NHS initiates its new members on an assembly in April. Here Carol Ann Downs calls out the new members of the Society.

Mr. Forgey expresses his thanks for the work of the 1963-64 Student Council officers.

Friday, May 1, was Student Council elections, and shown here are the candidates for all 5 offices.

May means many things to many people. To the Seniors it's the last of their high school days; to the underclassmen it means study for exams, and bear the hot weather.

The Chorus put on many programs during the year, but the month of May held a new and exciting treat, the Spring Fling.

Senior Day had John Bullock portraying one of the "Great" '64 Seniors, but WE '65 Seniors know better.

"The Mouse That Roared" was the '64 Senior Play. Charles Ingram played Tully Bascom, and Jeanie Ricketts was Queen Gloriana III.

Here, some of our better dressed students pose for new Mug Shots! Tacky Day has become another Adamson tradition.

May 21, 1964 was a special day for all Adamson students. The "Oaks" came out that day, and everyone wanted their friends' signatures. Don Donovan looks very disgusted with it all. Some underclassman made off with his Oak.

May 22, 1964, Senior Day, catches the Seniors in a happy, but sad time, for it is the last time they will be in Adamson as students.

Student Council officers for 1965 are Rusty Hendrix, Pres.; Marlene Moran, Parl.; Jeff Grey, V.-Pres.; Carolyn Way, Sec.; Marty Hargis, Treas. With them is the sponsor of the Council, Mr. Forgey.

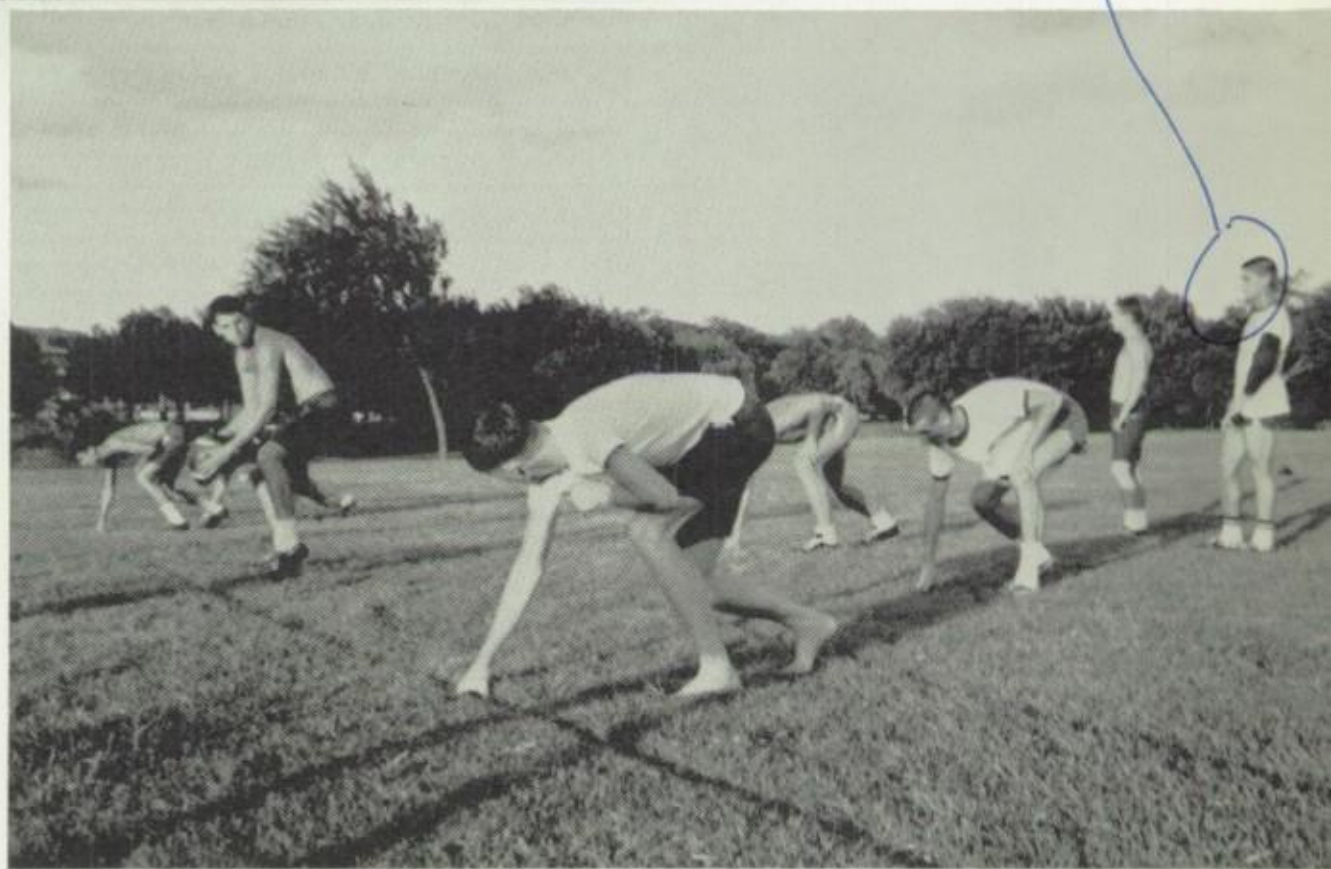

SUMMERTIME!!!!!!!

These halls were soon to be filled with the excitement and activities of the 1964-65 school year.

Bobby

During the HOT summer months our football team slaved to make the football season a good one!

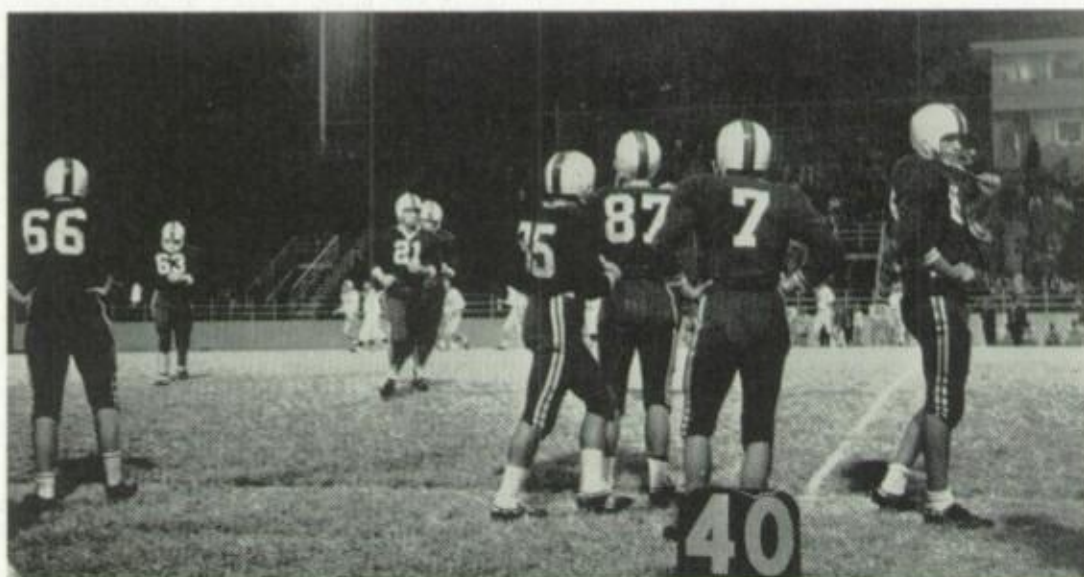

The month of August meant practice for the Leopard Band.

Mr. Batchelor explains the athletic program to the newcomers.

The month of September began another school year. Activities during September centered mainly around the football season with the assemblies, games, and parties. For some this was to be their first year of high school—for others, the last.

Well don't just stand there, do something!

During the first all-school assembly, the student council officers reaffirmed their dedication to Adamson. Also on the assembly was Sarah Rymal who reported her experiences at Girls State. Richard Worthy is pictured here relating his week at Boys State.

This year, the Leopardettes had a new and different type of Leopardette. Becky Davis served as mascot. Here Aunt Betty looks on as Becky is presented to the student body.

October is usually known as the "Fall Frolics Month". This year the Fall Frolics was a tremendous success. The annual SOC assembly, Fair Day, and initial work on the homecoming floats were other events which marked October as a month to be remembered.

Members of the Acorn and Oak staffs attended the Southwestern Journalism Forum held at SMU.

"Leader of the Pack" Swaner and her girls are carried away by the performance of their idols.

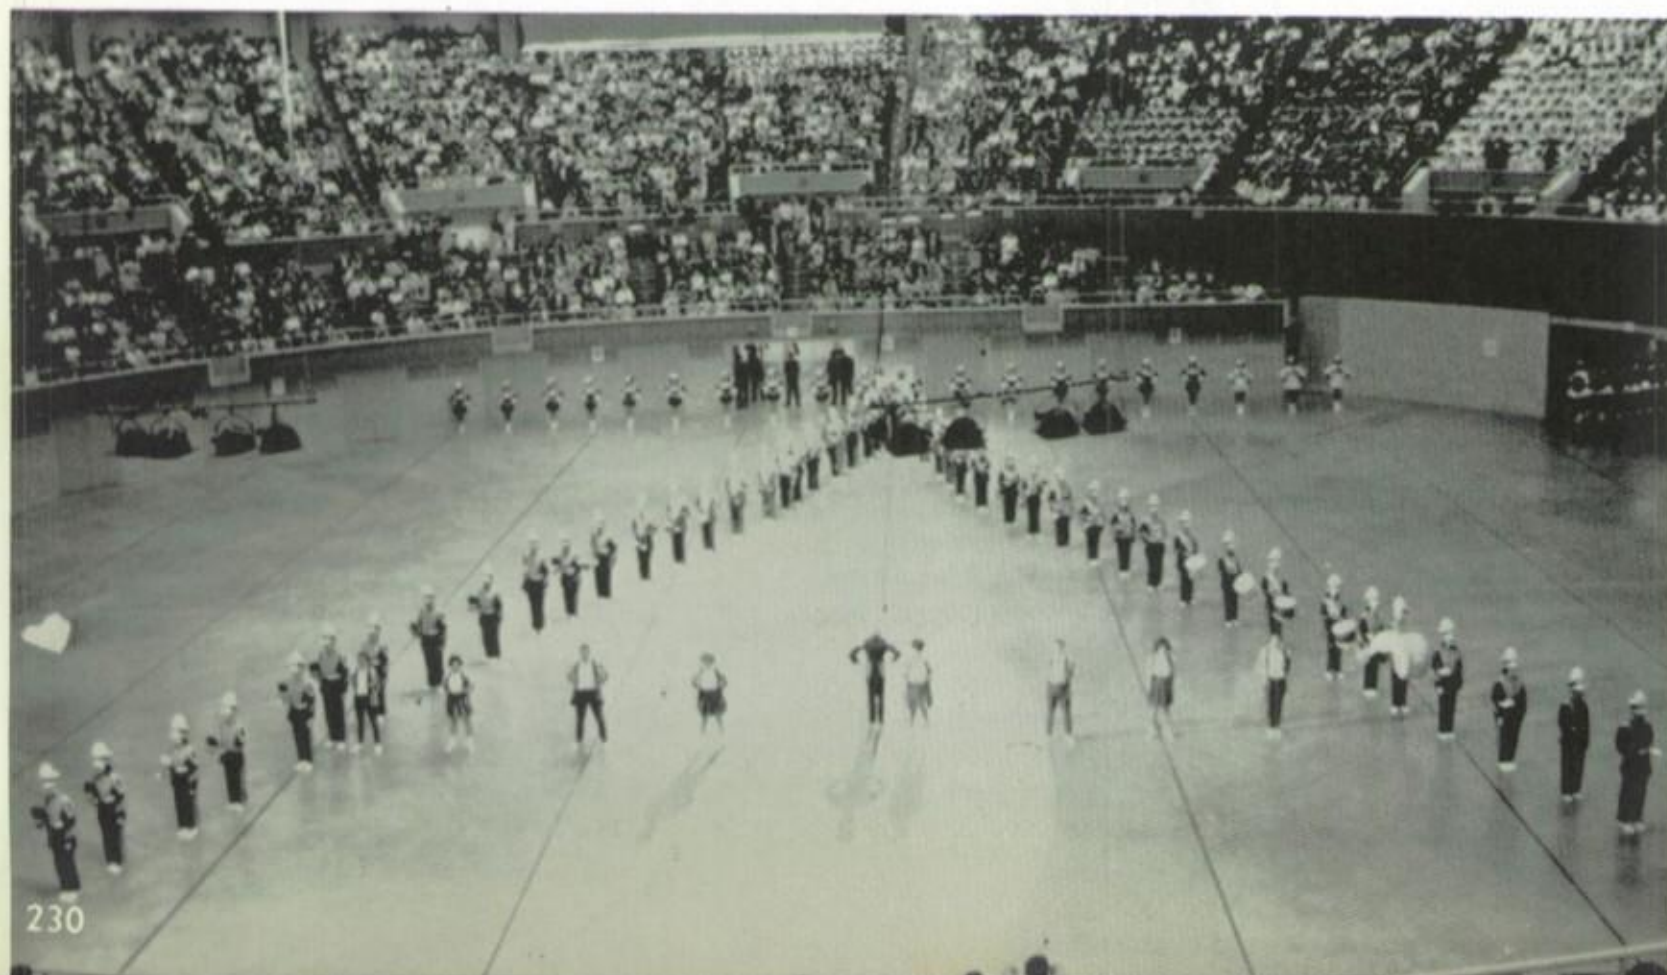

A nip of cold wind and Homecoming in the air brought the month of November.

"Victory is sweet," but the taste of mud isn't, as the Leopards won their first game of the year against North Dallas.

ABOVE: The annual football banquet was held at the Oak Cliff Country Club. The food was good, but the announcement of the 28 lettermen was better.

RIGHT: Miss Spruiell was honored during Open House for her untiring work while at Adamson.

"Big D" provided color and a feeling of good sportsmanship for those who attended.

The candidates for Homecoming queen anxiously await the climax of all the Homecoming festivities—the crowning of the 1965 Homecoming queen.

Mr. "Shorty" Beckhart was presented with an Adamson blue blazer from the Leopard Band for his devoted service throughout the year.

Mrs. Rae Cullum was honored in her final year as teacher and Leopardette sponsor.

Homecoming Queen Anita Ford and Senior princesses Cheri Tarwater and Marty Hargis.

The month of December means ordering graduation announcements for the seniors.

Freddie Ingram performs her version of "The Night Before Christmas" on the annual Christmas Assembly.

Students from the homemaking departments served as hostesses for the Christmas party given in the library for faculty and school officials.

Lon Oakley played the role of "Scrooge" on the Christmas Assembly.

Proceeds from the annual Penny Parade were used to benefit various needy organizations.

ABOVE: Dr. White presents Mr. Meek with a trophy won by Jacob Morgun in a contest sponsored by the General Motors Corporation.

RIGHT: Decorations furnished by the art department, and our leopard greeted Adamson's visitors during the holiday season.

Rebecca Rippey and Lillian Hardwick present to Mr. Robbins the first place trophy they won in Girl's Debate at the Jesuit speech tournament.

Steve Bradshaw goes for two points in the opening game against SOC.

Mr. Larsen helps a student with some last-minute studying before mid-term exams.

While cleaning out lockers before exams, some students find books they never knew they had.

On the basketball assembly, this plaque was presented to the school in honor of last year's State Runner-up team. Also presented was this year's team.

LEFT: Senior students Sammy Faris and Marsha Redd study for mid-term exams hoping that these will be their last.

BELOW: Sarah Rymal and Bill Epps present trophies awarded to the band and Leopardettes for their participation in the Fire Prevention Parade.

There is some hidden talent in everyone, however, "Elvis" Forgey seems to have lost his. But he retains his admirers.

The month of February was almost the busiest of all the school year. The Sweetheart Dance, Pay and Brotherhood assemblies, Military Ball, and Leopardette initiation were among the activities.

So you think Leopardettes is real neat??? The new girls found out what Leopardettes held in store for them. Here they sample a new type of food? and their new costumes!!

Larry Groce proved to everyone he could sing!!!! He was one of the outstanding features of the annual Pay Assembly.

Cindy Smith

Cindy Smith sang her version of "I Can't Say NO" on the Pay Assembly.

These wartime relics were found by Mr. Forgey beneath the school.

The annual Brotherhood Assembly was held on February 26, 1965. There were various speakers on the subject of Brotherhood, and Your American Brother.

Janace Pope won first place in the Dallas County Advertising Editorial Contest. Here she accepts her award.

Sammy Faris gave the devotional on the Brotherhood Assembly. Other speakers were Janace Pope, Steve Bradshaw, and master of ceremonies; Larry Groce.

Adamson's newest student, Thomas Allen Teague, was introduced to the student body.

The Military Ball was held February 27 in the girl's gym. The evening was climaxed by the announcement of the 1965 Military Sweetheart, Marty Hargis.

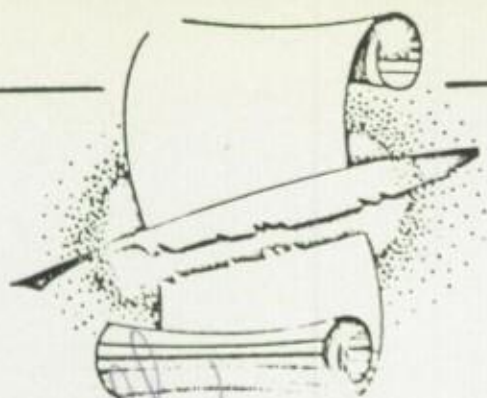

LEFT: The sponsors and cadets worked hard to make the ball a success, here they relax and have a good time.

THE OAK STAFF

Charles Murphy;

I hope you're in
there 20 times next year, and I love your bread

Glen Harding

Murphy -

It's been great knowing a guy as stud as you. Be careless in life.
Pat Murphy

Charles,

you're a great guy - even if you do work at Daff's.
you're a good ole suck. Be as dumb as you are now and...
I'll visit the jail.

Dickie Rice
